

THE BOO DEVILS

· TONIGHT ·

(Letra y Música: J.M. Mora)

Tonight... Tonight...
Could we have a word? Tonight... Tonight...
It's such a long time
Since we used to stay awake talking 'bout nuthin' till the break of dawn

Let's take the chance to change the rules to play
Life is the board, not the game
We've hardly been through the worst and best
Time is the last chain to break

Tonight... Tonight...
You'll be my sweetheart again. Tonight...
And I just wonder why
I didn't realize before you always have been so deep on my mind

Take my promise as a sacred bond
You're the only one of my own
Hold my hand and we'll never walk alone
I am a man of my word

Tonight...
Could we have a word? Tonight... Tonight...
You're still the prettiest one
And I don't want anyone else beside me in this moonless night

I'm not kitschy at all, you know, but I want you to take my love
And lock it close to your heart
Please keep it safe forever by your side
From here till the end of time

Tonight...
Could we have a word? Tonight...
